About the Conference

The Manipal Pharmaceutical Conference (MPCON) 2026 brings together leading experts from academia, healthcare, regulatory agencies, and the pharmaceutical industry to explore the rapidly evolving landscape of pharmaceutical sciences. Centered on the theme "Advancing Pharmaceutical Sciences through Innovation: Academia - Industry Synergy," the conference aims to strengthen collaborations that translate scientific discoveries into impactful healthcare solutions.

The two-day conference will feature keynote lectures by distinguished experts and scientific sessions on emerging areas, including artificial intelligence in drug discovery and development, clinical trials, regulatory affairs, medical affairs, scientific writing, pharmacovigilance, pharmacometrics, biotherapeutics, pharmaceutical marketing, and healthcare administration. The program is designed to provide participants with insights into current trends, future opportunities, and industry expectations.

MPCON 2026 will also serve as a dynamic platform for young researchers and students through poster presentations, an Intellectual Property (IP) Showcase, career guidance sessions, and soft-skills development that enhance research communication, leadership, and employability. By fostering interdisciplinary discussions, innovation, and industry engagement, the conference aspires to prepare the next generation of pharmaceutical professionals while advancing research that ultimately improves patient care and global health.

About MAHE and MCOPS

Manipal College of Pharmaceutical Sciences (MCOPS) is one of the constituent units of Manipal Academy of Higher Education (MAHE), a Deemed to be University, Institute of Eminence. MAHE has been ranked 3rd among the universities in India in the NIRF ranking.

Established in 1963, MCOPS has been offering several pharmacy programs such as D.Pharm, B.Pharm, M.Pharm (10 specializations) Pharm.D, Pharm.D-PB and PhD. Today, MCOPS holds an 'A' Grade in QCI-NABET Accreditation (with Top spot among QCI-accredited pharmacy institutes), #1 position in the Outlook-ICARE Rankings 2026 for private pharmacy colleges, and a global ranking of #76 in Pharmacy & Pharmacology (QS World University Rankings 2026).

Attracting talent globally, MCOPS fosters a robust research ecosystem, backed by substantial research funding from both government and private agencies. State-of-the-art infrastructure, excellent faculty, national and international tie-ups, and opportunities for extensive collaborations, internships, and placements make teaching, learning, and research at MCOPS an exceptional experience.
