Saturday, February 9, 2018

This special symposium on synergistic and combinatory applications of natural drugs and compounds in contemporary research and treatment regimes will be an integral part of the SFEC 2019, Manipal, India.

Synergy research is still a young field of research in life sciences, but the elucidation and application of synergistic actions of compounds is of particular relevance and opens new perspectives for drugs from botanicals. On behalf of the SFE India we cordially invite you to participate and to explore new perspectives and opportunities.
